1. The core values that shape our giving plan:

1. Humanity: We're financial experts, and meticulous ones at that, however our real passion lies in the human nature side of our work, with your return-on-life, and not just portfolio balances, being the measure of our success.
2. Authenticity: We pride ourselves on always acting with transparency and integrity. We create space for honest discussions that put authenticity and honesty at the heart of each and every conversation.
3. Empathy: We take time to listen and understand how you are feeling. To see the world through your eyes. No judgement and certainly no opinion. Just a simple focus on helping you to live life on your terms.

2. Our Charitable Giving Statement:

At Longhurst Limited, giving means more than writing a cheque. It means giving time, expertise, in-kind benefits and, on occasion, financial support to deliver measurable results to cause areas and qualified beneficiaries and projects important to our business and employees.

At present, we have operated a reactionary approach to our giving programme, supporting the financial fund-raising efforts of our business community, environmental, and notable national and international disaster reliefs (such as NHS/Covid and Ukraine).

Our intention is to be more intentional with our giving, ensuring we direct our financial and non-monetary contributions to organisations involved in humanitarian, animal welfare, environmental and financial education causes. We will also still operate a reactionary fund.

We will differentiate between corporate sponsorship and charitable giving. Corporate sponsorship is discussed separately and will be recorded on the corporate sponsorship document.

3. Corporate Giving Priorities:

1. Supporting the forgotten people of Europe, Africa and Asia: the oppressed and the persecuted, and those who are neglected by other organisations, those largely out of sights of the world's media.
2. Supporting those who promote animal protection, including British wildlife, animals used in scientific research and product testing, the sale of fur, and the number of animals suffering on farms.
3. Supporting those who support our planet, through the planting of trees and over environmental activities.
4. Proactively provide education, information, advice and guidance to people of all ages and at all stages of life, to help them get to grips with their money and increase their Financial Wellbeing.
5. Supporting our regional business and financial planning peer communities with their charitable fund-raising activities.

4. Our Aims in Charitable Giving:

1. To make a difference.
2. To do good.
3. To shine a light.
4. To celebrate the positive wins.
5. Inspiring our clients and professional connections to follow our lead.

5. We support not-for-profit organisations and not individuals*. Recipient not-for-profit organisations must:

1. Fit within our corporate giving priorities.
2. Where relevant, be registered with the Charity Commission, with all filings up-to-date, and be governed by a board of trustees.
3. Demonstrate fiscal stability, good governance and the intention of a medium-to-long term future.

(*) Except in the case of academic scholarships where individuals may be recipients.

6. Application Procedures

There will be no active solicitation of applications. Longhurst Limited intends to be proactive in identifying qualified beneficiaries and philanthropy partners.

7. How We Handle Unsolicited Approaches:

During the calendar year 2022/23, our stated aim is to focus on our work with our three identified charities. This will be reviewed again in 2025. During this time, we will retain the information of any unsolicited approaches, however we will not actively engage in conversations unless we decide to progress discussions.

8. In-Kind Donations

In-kind donations of equipment, facilities, professional services, technical resources and volunteers are made when possible, following a discussion with organisations in need.

9. Our View about Recognition is:

We do what we do because these charities support communities or areas of giving that have personal connection to our business. That said, where there is “a story” which reinforces our stated core values, we will create or enable publicity about our charitable giving for brand enhancement.

We recognise that publicity will benefit the charity/foundation involved by raising awareness of the cause and moreover, may challenge and/or inspire others.

All publicity is to be co-ordinated by Chris Broome.

10. Our Reporting Preferences/Requirements:

As our stated aim is measurable results, we will discuss communications and status reports with project sponsors. We will agree a communications plan with an appropriate level of detail when cash in excess of £2,500 is donated.

11. Documentation of Corporate Giving

Longhurst Limited is both a regulated entity with a commitment to avoid conflicts of interest, and a private limited company owned by shareholders. It is important that all charitable giving, financial and non-monetary, is documented.

As part of the decision-making process, it is important to consider and quantify the non-tangible benefits which may come from making a pledge or donation, specifically in the areas of employee relations and brand enhancement. It is recognised that there are occasions where the benefit received far outweighs the initial “cost”.

Documentation of Longhurst Limited’s Corporate Giving will begin with the completion of an annual Corporate Giving Record which appears as part of this document. This information (or parts of it) may, in future, with Board approval appear in some form as part of the annual accounts of the company and/or be included on the firm’s website.

Completing the tables that follow will provide an historic record of charitable giving. This is useful as a point of reference in press releases and in other corporate communications, internally and externally.

Chris Broome is tasked with keeping the Corporate Giving Record up to date on an ongoing basis.
